

Webcamconsult is the most advanced and reliable solution in the field of remote care. Why? Because our founders themselves work in healthcare, and they know what requirements and wishes practitioners, clients or patients place on computer screen care.

That's why many hospitals, GP practices, healthcare institutions and occupational health and safety services opt for Webcamconsult. It gives them all the options for using video consultations, virtual waiting rooms and chat functionality right away. Webcamconsult is available in ten languages and offers a real-time translation function for more than 60 languages. We handle millions of video calls every year.

We listen carefully to experiences of doctors and patients. We are always adding new functions based on their input. For example: the online walk-in clinic, real-time translation of video calls, a personal EPD or the continuous chat function.

Hybrid care in practice

Hybrid care is here to stay. Many institutions have set hard goals for digital healthcare. Physical and online consultations are easily switched within Webcamconsult. The patient is central to the process, and a practitioner is able to switch easily between a webcam consultation, physical consultation and an online or face-to-face consultation.

Use a specific function of Webcamconsult, or use the entire platform for your organisation. When using the platform as a whole, you will receive all the tools you need for your digital practice. Webcamconsult runs on European servers in the cloud and enjoys excellent security protection.

There is no need for you to install anything. Your first patient can be online, ready to talk to you, within 30 minutes.
